

Patricia Clayton

Social Studies Consultant

PatC@SummitESC.org
330.945.5600 ext. 511271

B.A. Social Studies – Kent State University
M.Ed. Education – University of Akron
Reading Specialist – University of Akron
Supervision & Instruction Certification – University of Akron

Patricia Clayton is the Social Studies Consultant at the Summit ESC. She served as a classroom teacher, athletic director, faculty advisor for various clubs at Mogadore High School for 25 years. Other state and local roles have included:

- ODE Academic Content Standards Advisory Committee
- ODE Network of Regional Leaders
- ODE Model Curriculum Writer
- Ohio Council for the Social Studies

Patricia has written articles for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Ohio Council for Social Studies, served as a lead for a 5-million-dollar federal American history grant, and served as a social studies consultant for Scott Foresman, Houghton Mifflin, and Jarret. Pat was the 2017 Summit County Woman of the Year for Innovation. She has also presented at national, state, and regional conferences.

Some of the services that Pat provides to districts are as follows:

- Social Studies Professional Development
- Social Studies Resource Review
- Social Studies Curriculum Alignment
- Critical Thinking and Problem Solving Professional Learning
- Assessment Writing
- ELL Supports
- Implementing Historic Trunks and Cultural Boxes into Classrooms